COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

It was a great meeting. The School Board members and clerks of St.
Francois county are loyal. Very few districts in the county that did not have at least one representative, many districts had several representatives in attendance. Everyone seemed to feel personally responsible for the success of the meeting and without that feeling prevailing the meeting could not have been otherwise than profitable and enjoyable.

The city Superintendents and Principals of the county proved their loyalty by their attendance and active participation. The following school men of the county were "an ever present help in time of trouble": Superintendents John of Farmington, Melcher of Bonne Terre, Jones of De-sloge, Danuser of Esther, Jadin of Leadwood, and Principals Baker of Franklney, Knight of Mitchell, and McClintock of Libertyville. County Superintendent Joseph King of Ste.
Genevieve county was also present and contributed generously from his abundant storehouse of knowledge and experience. Several teachers were also on hand to encourage the development of school sentiment.

Grateful acknowledgment is due Mrs. O. W. Bleck of Farmington for a well prepared, timely, and eloquent address. The aptness of her remarks proved that she has a deep interest in the welfare of the schools of this county and of the State, and that she has given much time and thought to ways and means of improving their condition. It was a pleasure to hear Mrs. Bleck and her words "sank in."

Dr. R. E. Walsh of Farmington gave a very interesting and instructive address on "Oral Hygiene." There can be no doubt but that his remarks will lead to a wider use of the toothbrush throughout the county. Dr.
Walsh was formerly a teacher and knew just how to address the school people.

The report of the committee on resolutions was a good one and was unanimously adopted by the Convention. It will probably be published next week.

List of pupils recently awarded attendance certificates from this office, continued: Bessie Jones, Lulu and Blanche Watson, Thelma Wolford, Walter Hamilton, Howard Jourdon, Glen Robinson, Magdalene Meyer, Julia Lawson, Opal McFarland, Lillie Davis, Ivan and Sanford Clay, Billy Davis, and Elzie Fleeman of the Franklney school; Melma Horn and Bessie Morris of the Patterson school; and Velma Taylor, Edith and Evalena, and Fred Burlaw, Velma Chalk, and Emily and Reva Williams of the De-Lassus school.

CO. SUPT. OF SCHOOLS.

HIGH COST OF FOOD NECESSI- TATES JUDICIOUS MANAGEMENT

Purchasing food supplies and planning and preparing three meals a day has always been a problem but with the increase in food prices the problem is becoming more difficult every day. The abnormal price of certain foods leads the careful housewife to seek substitutes but if she does not know the relative values of the different foods she cannot make her substitutes intelligently. A knowledge of the part that each of the different classes of foods performs in the body upkeep is essential. Without this knowledge serious mistakes may be made. Bess Bab Bell of the Missouri College of Agriculture makes a few suggestions relative to decreasing the cost of living.

(1) Make a thorough study of the different classes of foods and the function of each in the body.

(2) Plan meals carefully so that foods are not duplicated. For instance, do not serve Irish and sweet potatoes in the same meal; cheese and meat; rice and potatoes; spinach and lettuce; navy beans and meat.

(3) Substitute in part, corn starch for eggs; rice for potatoes; meat substitutes for meat; some good oil for olive oil; some product for butter, especially in cooking; cornmeal for wheat flour. Milk is one of the best foods and consequently can be substituted for higher priced foods. Skim-milk has a high protein value.

The cost of living may be reduced by:

(1) Purchasing food supplies in large quantities when a good storeroom is available, and by purchasing foods in season.

(2) Preparing the exact amount of food needed. Some foods cannot be warmed or made over.

(3) Planning meals to utilize all "left-overs" and thus reducing the waste which ordinarily goes to the garbage can.

(4) Training children and adults as well not to waste foods at the table by leaving quantities on their plates.

(5) Doing your own marketing, if possible.

(6) Growing vegetables on every foot of ground available and by canning fruits, vegetables; storing eggs, butter and other products to be used during winter.
